

apex

The apex layer describes the framing of the problem, including the conceptual framework of the meta-model layers

metaschema

The metaschema layer provides a formal description of the structure and layout of the schema document.

schema

The schema layer provides a formal description of the user objects

application

The application layer ..

user

The user layer is characterised by fully defined objects, with no capability for further refinement through instantiation.